Reviving the organic modernism of legendary Georg Jensen designer Henning Koppel.

Koppel with his iconic Pitcher No. 992 at his design studio in Birkerød, Denmark.

Henning Koppel, a frequent collaborator with the Georg Jensen company beginning in the late 1940s, went on to design some of its most iconic pieces. To mark what would have been his 100th birthday, the brand used archival sketches to recreate and reimagine some of his most beloved objects; see more at georgjensen.com.
